Baby

Clint is the love of my love. I don't know what I would do without him. He is always there for me no matter what the situation may be. I love him more than life itself. We have had our problems and we still do but we have really grown in our relationship. I am very proud of him. Sometimes he can be lazy and not want to do anything but then again I do the same thing. I really think that he is THE ONE. I don't want to live my life without him in it, by my side every step of the way. He has made a few mistakes in the past and I am working really hard to forgive him for that. I will tell the story when I am truly ready to. There are still some mixed emotions about the whole thing but I am getting through it day by day.
