Playin with Fire

Okay so there's this chick rite well you see she looks exactly like me except she is something like the ugly one. So yeah I did my MySpace and had a layout with my body as the background. Like as in Me. So I'm looking thru my friends and such and find her page. Only issue is that it has my layout which is of me and my about me. So you know me being just a nice person I don't really say anything. But that's all I can do is just put don't steal my about me or layout and get your own life stop chasing mines cause it's already taken. So yeah basically the point I'm trying to get across is that imitation is the worst quality. And their suicides so if your trying to be someone else you should go kill yourself. [Not literally]....well that was my view on that situation....breeze
