The fact is, I am a young lady, ok not so much I truly feel like a powerful lion. there is something within me that is aching to come out and bite this whole world. The truth is This is the only reason why I dont feel like I know who I am for real! I am a nice young lady, I'm pretty, I'm smart, hey I've got more then one thing going on for me. But yet, there's a pride in all of this. I'm sweet, I'm kind there is compassion, there is a gregarious girl who lets her self loose, and yet no one can catch her no one.
