Bonjor and Welcome to My Journal.

I am married, I have two beautiful children, I am a U.S. Army Veteran and PROUD! I am wiccan, and I am a stay at home mother right now. My son just started kindergarten and my daughter is five months old. I adore my babies. I have also suffered with an eating disorder, rape, self injury. And to be honest I doubt that I will ever be "over it". I would love to talk to anyone about anything as long as they can choose to not be rude. Have something I may not want to hear, that's fine, but please no name calling.
