

Thu, 14 Oct 2010

5:54 PM

(no subject)

 direction that God is leading us,

<pre>

I LOVE the new church and the message of it,

I am trying to figure out what my place in this body is,,,, with out jumping into something God is not leading me into.

things I think God is saying to me:

well the white Elephant house dream :

we were bidding on a pretty cool house well parts were really cool like the canal outside - beautiful and some window area nice,,,, but the house

was huge and a lot of not so nice areas like the kitchen and these huge rooms the house did not make sense and rambled... we put a bid on it and did not get it we knew of a couple of people who might have gotten but did not know who,,,, Steve really wanted it and so did I well part of me anyway ... thought we should bid more but the bidding was over.

totally related to the DC move.

ok '

thinking that God told me to get rid of the scale ... I have a bad addiction to weighing ... frequently... I believe God is going to help me overcome this sin and I will be able to maintain a weight where I will be comfortable in my clothes.

starting today.

also I am wondering if God is leading me to evangelize and tell people

in the NF area about Jesus and an incredible church.

</pre>

Security: Public

Location: Not Specified

Mood: Not Specified

Music: