

Tue, 7 Jun 2011

7:49 AM

Transcription company - How To Find The Best Transcription Services

There's more to transcription than hearing words and simply typing them down. If that were the case, there would be no such thing as professional

transcription services

. However, there are. And here are the reasons why, which are also the key qualities of a good

transcription company that is important to bear in mind when searching for the right service for your needs. It begins with corporate integrity.

Absolutely essential is a transcription company that understands your need for privacy and security. Look for a company that stand by a guarantee that anything they see or hear remains 100% confidential. A good, dependable company will have all of their transcriptionists sign Non-Disclosure Agreements (NDA) and will strictly these agreements to the fullest extent of the law. This is a vital part of transcribing services

, and you, as the client must be assured that your material is held in the highest confidentiality. Otherwise, you run the risk of your original material being used without permission by other parties who should not be privy to your sensitive information.

The next quality of a good transcription and translation

company that you should look for would be: 1. accurate transcription for academic, corporate and post production purposes, 2. efficient, prompt transcription services turnaround times that's available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 3. translation jobs and captioning services, 4. courteous, knowledgeable and professional transcription personnel, 5. helpful and insightful tutorials available on transcription website, and finally 6. affordable rates for all transcription services, post production transcriptions, translation services and language translations.

Getting the word right is crucial in a wide range of fields. One misplaced or mistyped word can convey very a different meaning from one initially intended. Many industries rely on communication for the success of their operations, and this is true beyond the corporate sector: in a political, military, and societal agenda, accurate, timely communication could mean the difference between tremendous success or absolute disaster. Transcribing plays a key role in any operation across nearly all arenas our of lives. From entertainment to government, accurate transcription of the original message serves to be an important component in achieving desired ends. Choosing the right transcription company by considering important points is a very important first step in ensuring nothing is lost in translation, as the phrase goes.

Security: Public
Location: Not Specified
Mood: Not Specified
Music:

Fri, 2 Dec 2011
5:19 AM

Transcription Services Firm Sports â??Stauche in Movember with Team MOustache Boy

Things are getting hairy - Day 1 and 16 progress of Team MOustache Boy Captain, Matt Horwitz, who encourages fellow Mo Bros and supporting Mo Sistas to: "Mo' on!"

A major Los Angeles

transcription services

firm joined Team MOustache Boy for Movember, a month-long facial follicular extravaganza of men sprouting Moustaches around the world aiming to raise funds and awareness for men's health, specifically prostate cancer and other cancers. The month-long campaign begins with participants, known as Mo Bros, clean shaven. Through the duration of Movember, Mo Bros trim and wax their statements to transform themselves into effectively walking, talking billboards for the cause.

This is the second year that this

transcription service
firm has joined the fight for mens health with Matt Horwitz, Captain of Team MOustache Boy, who is growing his "brown furry ribbon" for a third year.

"Personal and business relationships with partners is instrumental to Movember. Every partner essentially becomes part of a brotherhood and link to their communities. By getting out there with their moustaches, each brother creates opportunities to share Movember's message through a ripple effect." Team MOustache Boy Captain, Matt Horwitz

"Movember is a great way for us to endorse important issues like mens health and sporting the 'stauche is a simple means of supporting one of our partners," said Jason Reeves of a major Los Angeles transcription services company. Changing the face of men's health is Matt's driving motivation and he's spurred on by the campaign's results. The Mo Bros community has grown to 1.1 million members and has raised $87.2 million for mens health programs through the Prostate Cancer Foundation and LIVESTRONG.

"We're almost there, so much closer to finding a cure for prostate cancer than we were before. Movember shows that there are many individuals out there who care and want to help in any way they can. Whether it's through the moustache or donation, every effort brings us another step closer," Matt adds.

Tue, 27 Dec 2011

12:27 AM

Transcription Services - The Benefits of Using Transcription Service

In today's modern technological world, there are many benefits to using

transcription services

to transcribe your documents. It does not matter if you are in the medical community, legal field or just in the business world, you can definitely benefit from using

transcription service

. In the old days, bosses would dictate their letters to their secretaries or the secretaries would record business meetings for future transcribing.

These days, there is no need for all of that. Instead you can hire someone else to do the transcribing for you and your secretary or receptionist can focus on other more important matters. The first thing you have to do is find the transcription service that is right for you. Some places specialize in certain fields, such as medical dictation. So, you need to be sure to find transcription services that will cater to your line of business. You also want to look at past customer testimonials. You do not want to trust important documentation to a company that cannot get the job done.

You need a company that will get your documentation back to you in a speedy manner, but will also get it done correctly the first time. It wastes your valuable time if you have to keep sending the same document back to them to correct. Once you have settled on a transcription service that meets your needs, you need to be sure that you are not paying them more than they are worth. Research the transcription services market and see what the going rate is, on average, for the type of work you are asking them to do. If most places charge one price, but the company you picked is charging more, you need to know why and if it is worth the extra cost.

Usually though, if most places seem to be charging one price and another is charging more, they are overvaluing their work and the work is not worth it. When it comes to using a transcription service, just remember that you are not stuck with using the first one you try out. If you try out one company and you feel that you can get a better value elsewhere, then by all means move on to the next company. That is the beauty of the transcription services market - there are plenty of companies to choose from. You are never stuck with just one, so shop around and see which ones are the best value for your money.

Security: Public

Location: Not Specified

Mood: Not Specified

Music:

12:27 AM

Transcription Services - The Benefits of Using Transcription Service

In today's modern technological world, there are many benefits to using

transcription services

to transcribe your documents. It does not matter if you are in the medical community, legal field or just in the business world, you can definitely benefit from using

transcription service

. In the old days, bosses would dictate their letters to their secretaries or the secretaries would record business meetings for future transcribing.

These days, there is no need for all of that. Instead you can hire someone else to do the transcribing for you and your secretary or receptionist can focus on other more important matters. The first thing you have to do is find the transcription service that is right for you. Some places specialize in certain fields, such as medical dictation. So, you need to be sure to find transcription services that will cater to your line of business. You also want to look at past customer testimonials. You do not want to trust important documentation to a company that cannot get the job done.

You need a company that will get your documentation back to you in a speedy manner, but will also get it done correctly the first time. It wastes your valuable time if you have to keep sending the same document back to them to correct. Once you have settled on a transcription service that meets your needs, you need to be sure that you are not paying them more than they are worth. Research the transcription services market and see what the going rate is, on average, for the type of work you are asking them to do. If most places charge one price, but the company you picked is charging more, you need to know why and if it is worth the extra cost.

Usually though, if most places seem to be charging one price and another is charging more, they are overvaluing their work and the work is not worth it. When it comes to using a transcription service, just remember that you are not stuck with using the first one you try out. If you try out one company and you feel that you can get a better value elsewhere, then by all means move on to the next company. That is the beauty of the transcription services market - there are plenty of companies to choose from. You are never stuck with just one, so shop around and see which ones are the best value for your money.

Security: Public

Location: Not Specified

Mood: Not Specified

Music: