Testing the Blogger

well if I would be able to post this entry from my dashboard then this would be a really convenient tool for my lazy self. i usually have plain notebooks to scribble stuff on. making a fancy blog site would be too tedious for me unless its something i would really want people to read and pay attention to.

i guess the one thing that is a bit irritating for me is the fact that the flower on the mac dashboard widget is just way too big and useless. make it smaller then this would be perfect.

ahh... its almost 2am. i have 6 hours till my computational biology lecture. i got carried away again... i really have to break this bad habit of mine. 4 hours of sleep/day really isn't healthy at all, and most of the things that occupy my time from 10pm-2am is just mindless online wandering.

goodnight

ahh...whoops... pressed &quot;post blog&quot; and it didn't work. the MacOS client isn't working so i really had to post it from here on the site. i don't know why its listed on the apple widget download page when its not working yet. too bad.
