Feeling sick

At 12:30am I woke up feeling really sick and I was having serious problem. Just not feeling well at all. I got up for a little bit and chatted with a friend and went back to sleep at around 1:15am.

Feeling Better

I am feeling a little better, but not great. I am going to check email and do some coloring and reading and get some rest. I really should eat something though.

About my Day

Today I had a good day! I was tired when I woke up, but I finally got out of bed. I was on the computer for a few minutes, but not too long. I am a little tired, but I made it through church. I also went to second service, but only part of it because I had gone to first service.

After church we went to Wendy's and Walmart. I got a Jr. Bacon Cheeseburger at Wendy's for $0.99. It was good and I had a soda. I feel great.

I've been having a slight headache, but Patty prayed for me and my headache was mostly gone. After lunch, we went to Wal-mart. I bought a present for Rachel and Tim to give to Caitie. I also bought two things I needed, one of them was a new watch because I have not had one. The watch is a little tight, but it doesn't bother me that much. I just like having a watch. I hope it doesn't give me a rash; not that I am allergic, I just never really wore this kind of a watch before; never was much for watches for some reason. Now I am though. I love it.

Well, it's 5:45pm and I am gonna read now. Now Mom and I are at McDonalds for a little bit. I read a chapter and now I am taking a little break to write some more thoughts down. I haven't been journaling as much. I regret that.

(no subject)

I had a good day today, even though I had a bit of a headache. I am so tired and I feel like I haven't sleep for days. I had an appointment with my Case Manager and I think that went well, but then I find out my doctor retired and that bummed me out. I didn't sleep well last night at all. I am so tired I could climb into bed and go to sleep right this minute and feel like sleeping for 2 weeks. I wish I had some medicine to help me sleep better. I went to Jewelry club and had fun, even though I kind of lost interest in making jewelry for a bit. I gave a bracelet to my friend because she is going to help me out to pay for a movie tomorrow when we go with Healthy Living. I hope we see a movie that we all like. It's going to be fun I think. I am taking a sack lunch.
