Shoes in red color symbolism

As we all know, in ancient Greece, the shoes symbolize the difference between slavery and freedom. Greek philosopher Plutarch (46 - 120) wrote, "barefoot", "is a sign of abject slavery." Slaves were not allowed to wear shoes, the slaves were sold, their bare feet covered with chalk or plaster on, so they called cretati, or "chalk people." The freedom of the Greek people did not dare not wear shoes on the streets, afraid of being treated as slaves.

Historically speaking, the shoes reflect the wealth that can be used to determine a person's social status, or religious beliefs. For example, two hundred and seventy years ago, if a British girl was wearing a pair of leather, will be considered with a young woman wearing lace high heels is very different - even if she wore the shoes are fine.

King Louis XIV of France is only five feet three inches tall.

From 1643 to 1715, he led the French army and almost all countries in Europe hit four big battles, built the Versailles Palace.

Although he made these achievements, but still feel regret that he was hoping for a very moving image of the tall king world attention. In order to solve the height problem, he wore a towering wigs, full board a pair of high heels. One for special occasions, he did wear a pair of cork five inch heels, decked with various manifestations of the French victory in battle of the pocket-sized portrait. His heel high heels dyed leather at the red, the color was a symbol of nobility of the members. The color of shoes is often a symbol of power. AD 800, Charlemagne received Pope Leo III crowned emperor of the Roman Empire, after the conquest of most of Europe, Charlemagne incredible red dress shoes, the top trimmed with gold and emeralds, and his crown studded with jewels exist side by side. Royal purple is a color of the shoes, the early Roman Empire, only the emperor could wear purple leather sandals, embroidered with gold thread, gold only on foot eagle. According to Roman law, anyone who dares to wear the same shoes, would have been exiled, lost all their possessions. Some of the Roman rulers to their subjects to wear shoes the color and decoration are very picky, Ole good emperor had announced, in addition to himself and his successor, in addition, no one allowed to wear

Not only reflect the status of the shoes, but also a lot about a certain leader philosophy. Thomas Jefferson (1743--1826) in 1801 became the third president of the United States, his full board of Oxford shoes lace knot the presidency. "Oxford shoes" shoe is very low, as early as 1640 to the introduction of the Oxford University students. But then laces still fresh - so there will be a Jefferson caused a sensation. Jefferson did not want to play the leading role in the fashion field, he is only 1785 to 1789, when the U.S. Minister to France by the new revolutionary spirit of it. The French have abandoned the silver buckle, instead using shoelaces, because they think it is more "democratic." Also used as symbols of military boots, when France's Napoleon (1769--1821) seized power, proclaimed himself emperor in 1804, Pope Pius VII in a ceremony presided over his shoe guide the a new trend.

Napoleon particularly appreciate the art of the Roman Empire and clothing, like most high boots in front of the knees, but behind the cut was slightly shorter, easy to walk. In order to maintain the necessary light, the top boots with a special mixture of grease and wax polish, nike dunk sb shoes does not allow a piece of dark spots. 1815 British defeat in the battle of Waterloo, Napoleon, the British command of the Duke of Wellington was a surprise that he has been able to succeed in the military, mainly because his soldiers are "the best dress shoes in Europe of the people. " Like Napoleon, Wellington boots is also a fan.

Womens Clogs returned home unexpectedly to tie it at 2-2 overall level. Fourth game, Roy completely broke, he scored 24 points off the bench. This time the Mavericks return home, the two sides back to the same starting line, think again, Dallas will use home advantage to score lead.

From the fourth game of the data, Roy is a bright spot in the outbreak, the outbreak of the game is perhaps a turning point in Roy, we believe that such a good state, Roy will be brought back in the match. After losing the game for the Mavericks is a fatal blow. The fourth quarter, the Mavericks led by as twenty-pay would, simply to match Roy outbreak was won back. Obviously, Roy's performance the first three games, the Mavericks have relaxed his vigilance.

Now the Mavericks have faced moments of life and death, they must be reversed out of the shadow of Portland. Mavericks and Blazers game has a very interesting phenomenon that, since the regular season since the two warring 6, who is at home who are winning. This spell has not yet been broken, when the two sides into a 2-2 score when the war, the Mavericks back to the home, they most likely to use home advantage gain another victory. Taking into account more and more brave pioneers of the state, even in the calf of the road, the Blazers are not playing very cautious, so the Mavericks game will not even win big score. According to previous experience, the game will be a point spread is estimated that less than 5.5, that is so sub-Dallas, Portland transferee. This disk is estimated as the game will continue to drop near the disk, so that scores will be lower and lower. If Chupan in 5.5, then the main negative personal optimistic handicap.

Points in size, the individual is more optimistic about the small points. Because the defense teams are OK, especially the pioneer league defensive ability is superior team. With the deepening of the playoffs, the two sides are to understand each other's tactics and offensive and defensive routines, so the fierce competition will fall short, in this case, the possibility of playing more and more small high scores.
