My new journal existance

So im my wanderings of the net late at night (because i work from 11p to 8a) i have come across this place and suprisingly its not (yet) blocked by our internet filters. Ya gotta love government computers.

Anyhow, im a pretty average guy. Currently in my 8th year of active duty with the US Air Force. Im stationed in west texas where im a systems mechanic on C130 aircraft.

I have a varied selection of things i enjoy ranging from movies to video games, cars to anime. Since im born and raised in Florida, im a huge Buccaneers fan.

Sometimes i tend to rant or ramble about in my blogs... so fair warning. Id love to meet new people... as well as get some kind of 'incite' from others.

Feel free to drop a line...

Chris
