i miss this!

hi!i miss blogging....

so yeah...im doing this thing again.:D

to start off...let me tell you how my day was..

when i woke up this morning, it was already 7am so i was already running late cause im supposed to be at school by 8.

so yeah, i didnt take a shower. i know it's gross...well, better that way than late and miss the exam. so anyways, the day was usual until kashmere(a new friend) came in the room's door. she said hi and started telling stories.. then mayee was there too so it really began to become an unusual day for me!hahah. we talked a lot but in lunch break, i still went out for lunch with janela and bridg, it was a lot more fun than just sitting in our room and boring myself.

anyways, i had to go back to school earlier coz we have another exam. yeah..tell me about it!school's so toxic! after school, mayee,kash,mj and i picked up our name plates at recto. it was an icky adventure but fun. we shared our

"happy moments!"ahhaha:)

so yeah...it was indeed fun. on my way home, i rode a jeep. and guess what?there were hold uppers!it totally scared the hell out of me. good thing it wasnt me they help up though..it was the other guy. but i still am scared. hello?i was there...i could have been that guy. i mean, anything can happen anywhere!life is a surprise, i know...but should it be really as surprising as this?huh?

so when i finally got home..i literally called everyone in my family and randolph to let them know what just happened.

and then randolph seemed plain about the issue so i went ballistic.. i started crying and crying...and finally got him out of bed and really talk to me this time:D hehe. go girl eh?heeh. so all in all...i can say that my day has been..unexpected.:)

okay,i got to go.

i need some serious studying coz i think im flunking my subjects..i didnt come all the way here to flunk,right?
