~Old 5th Grade Poem!~

A horse, a boy

It's really really nice.

It makes you want to eat a chip,

or maybe even rice!!!

WHOO!!!

(I made it in 5th grade, but now I am in 6th.)

~Acting, Singing, and Dancing~

I LOVE TO ACT, SING, AND DANCE!!!! All my friends think I want to be a teacher, which I kinda do, but I would rather do something with acting, singing, or dancing instead! Every summer I do a musical thing for a sport and a summer activity! Now I am raising money for this acting thing that is a after school activity with the same directors as the summer musicals! I found out that doing musicals and things that have acting, singing, and dancing gives you more exercise than volleyball or cheer leading! I wanted to be a cheerleader until I found out about this acting thing during school! I am going to have so much fun! I LOVE ACTING, SINGING, AND DANCING!!!! (Keep reading my journal!)

~Cancer Story~

Sad Cancer Story

Every day I dread the day that I remember the most. I never want to feel that hole in my heart again. I couldn't believed she died because I was only four. I thought she was just playing dead like my dog did, but then after two years I noticed that she didn't come back. She was my friend that I could share everything that happened at preschool with. She was my mom. I still can't believe that she had to be diagnosed with breast cancer. I mean I was there for her when she needed anything. How come God had to take her when I was four instead of when I am in my twenties? I miss her a lot, but I always know that she is watching me for up above in the highest. Let me start from the beginning.

I was three and my mom and dad are divorced. I never knew what divorced meant. So, I was mostly with my mom because she is a girl and could help me through all th stuff I was going to have happened to me in the future. Then it happened. She got breast cancer, but I didn't know what cancer was then. She was always puking and asking me to run and get her an ice pack because she was having a hot flash. I learned things that most kids don't learn till they are twelve or a teenager. I learned how to cook, clean, and take care of my mother. And every week she would have to get another treatment.

My mom would always say, "Sweetie, no matter what happens I will always love you."

Then I would say, "Nothing is gonna happen because you have me."

Now I know that no matter who has me anything can happen. Anything at all, even if you don't want it to.

(I, Keona, made this story one day when I was bored. My mother had cancer, but she lived. Please leave a comment if you liked my story! Keep reading my journal!)

~Theater!~

I'm waiting for the part I got assigned for a musical. I auditioned on Wednesday and I get my part Monday! I can't wait to see what part I got! My friend got to know what part she got early, but I am still waiting! I don't care what part I get, because everyone gets a part and no matter what it is fun hanging out with my friends! So just pray for me! I'll need it!! Please keep reading my journal!!!

~Frinds~

I HATE it when friends say/promise they will tell or do something for me then don't. Whenever someone does that to me they mostly say I say and promise things I don't mean. It gets on my nerves so much! Everyone is suppose to be honest and a lot of people aren't!
