Looking for the perfect
engagement rings

Los Angeles is exciting yet overwhelming with all of the various styles and types to choose from. The style and materials used for the engagement rings will depend on the preference and the finances of the marriage couple. According to wholesale diamonds Los Angeles boutique, the most common kinds of metal to be used for engagement rings include gold, silver, and platinum. After deciding what kind of metal you would like to use, then comes deciding the style and then the quality of loose diamonds Los Angeles.

1.

Eternity Engagement Rings - Women love lots of glitter and sparkles. Eternity rings are lined with diamonds around the band and often look like a circle of gemstones. The continuous loop of diamonds is symbolic of eternal and unending love.

2.

Three Stone Engagement Rings - Also called trilogy or trinity rings represent the past, present and future of a couple's relationship.

3.

Vintage Engagement Rings - Antique style engagement rings have an inherent uniqueness and charm with a one-of-a-kind look. The most typical and widely used vintage styles are from these three eras: Victorian antique engagement rings (1835-1900), Edwardian engagement rings (1900 - 1920) and Art Deco engagement rings (1920 - 1930).

Solitaire Engagement Rings - The

traditional Solitaire engagement rings can make a simple statement or bold declaration. A single stone set on a simple ring setting is perfect for everyday wear.

5.

Channel Set Engagement Rings - A

Channel-set ring arranges diamonds in a line that is inlaid into the ring's band with a small metal lip on each edge to keep the stones in place. There are no individual prongs around each stone; instead, the metal lips keep the stones secure without detracting from them with additional metal.

Any of these top 5 trendy glamorous engagement rings are the perfect symbol of love from man to woman. If you are ready to pick out the perfect engagement ring, contact your GIA diamonds Los Angeles dealer for a free consultation.
