Okay, so i have tried keeping journals in the past. It has never worked out. I am hoping that an online journal will work out better. I am on the computer all the time anyway. So here I am. It is a Monday night and I am lying on my bed and watching Secret Life of the American Teenager. Friday night I went to a Sub deb dance at the Leland Racket Club. I went with Patrick Lane. He is sweet, cute, funny and smart. I had an okay time I guess. Well this week is going to be stressfull. I have school the rest of the week. I have a Spanish Exam next Monday and Tuesday and other exams the rest of the week. I have to take Spanish and Geometry exams! I also have Drill team practice all week until 4:30. I am going to have fun!! I can not wait for SUMMER!!
