facial liposuction Los Angeles - Present and Past: Rhinoplasty and Facial Liposuction

Rhinoplasty was first performed by the ancient Indian physician Sushruta Samhita, in India around 800 B.C. Since then, many different physicians throughout the world have tried to perfect rhinoplasty techniques in order to make noses look more natural and adequate. Throughout history, and in today's world, many famous people have gone through rhinoplasty for cosmetic or clinical reasons.

By the early 20th century, surgeons found a way to correct a deviated septum, which then led to the open rhinoplasty approach. By the late 20th century, surgeons had perfected rhinoplasty techniques, which had become common among a large sector of the general population.

In the past few decades

Beverly Hills rhinoplasty has perhaps become one of the most common cosmetic procedures in the developed world. It has become not only safe, but affordable.

A different and more modern and fairly new medical technique is facial liposuction. For many people, it is difficult to make a face look less round and with fat underneath the cheeks and around the neck areas. Many people try to lose weight by exercising and diets in order to lose weight around the face areas and neck areas. However, while this does work for other areas of the body, fat around the face and neck is at times more difficult to get rid of.

Facial liposuction can cost anywhere between $1500-4500, depending on the surgeon and geographical area. Most people who are willing to go through this procedure should contact and find out physicians' certifications and training. The healing process for

, takes about 18 to 36 hours to complete.

If

someone is looking to have a "nose job", or facial liposuction, there are plenty of well-trained surgeons ready to make improvements. People looking to go through this sort of procedures should always educate and inform themselves about all the possible outcomes and the best procedure for them. They should also make sure they are in good health and physical condition before undergoing surgery.

Beverly Hills cosmetic surgeon - How to choose a Plastic Surgeon:

If

you are thinking that plastic surgery is right for you it is very important that you take your time when making your decision. One of the first things that needs to happen is that you need to figure out what type of procedure is right for you and what that procedure entails. After making the decision that plastic surgery is right for you, it is then next important that you pick the best

Beverly Hills

cosmetic surgeon

for your desired procedure patients say. Having plastic surgery done on any part of the body no matter how small is a life changing and body altering experience and it is essential that your surgeon not only has extensive experience, but also an artistic eye.

When

meeting a plastic surgeon for a consultation, don't be afraid to ask questions. It is their job to make you feel comfortable with the knowledge that they have to offer. There are some critical questions to ask your plastic surgeon

patients claim such as, how often do you perform the procedure that I want? The answer to this question will give you an idea about how skilled that they have become with the hands on experience they have gotten over time. The more often that the surgeon performs the procedure better.

No

matter what the procedure is that you are deciding to have whether it is a tummy tuck, breast implants, or even a nose job, patients recommend that you do all the research that you can to find out if the doctor that you are considering for your procedure is board certified. These are some of the simple reasons why you want to have a board certified surgeon performing your procedure:

Any

licensed doctor, such as a psychiatrist, can perform any procedure and it is important to be sure that the professional you are interested specializes in plastic surgery.

Board

certified professional have to have 2 years surgery experience and then an additional 3 years of specializing in plastic surgery before they can join a practice.

Any doctor that is a board certified surgeon has graduated from an accredited university and has taken several written and oral exams.

Board certified surgeons must continue their education to keep current on new technologies and procedures to keep their certification.

Also, if you go in for a consultation and you only have one procedure in mind that is all you need to consult about. If you notice that your doctor is pushing other procedures that you don't want or need without legitimate reasoning, this should be a red flag. Having more than one procedure at a time is also very risky. Do what makes you feel comfortable and go with your gut.
