

Mon, 12 Jan 2009

1:05 PM

(no subject)

I want to set the record straight....NOW.....I did NOT vote for Obama. As an American, I hope and pray that he has a very successful term in office; however, I don't have any faith in that happening. It's not a black thing because I would have equally been disappointed with Hillary winning. Sadly, if McCain had won it would have only been slightly (very slightly) better.

I now look forward to the mid term elections. Hopefully we can either change the leadership in the Senate and/or the House.

Security: Public

Location: Home

Mood: Disappointed

Music: