10:53 PM

how it all began it all began when i woke up.

it was during that year of exploration i decided to explore something new i was looking for something you see i just didn't know what it was and i hoped that i would know it when i found it sometimes its like that snow snow

it snowed in the morning it snowed all afternoon and then before i drove home the sun came out
